PLAYER RULES

- Event Purpose: The Showdown aims to generate attention and support for the players, considering the high cost of travel and the need for future tournaments in South Africa. The event will adopt a format inspired by IPL/NBA/Dubai leagues, with a strong focus on creating buzz and engagement across various social media platforms, particularly Instagram.
- Collaboration and Exposure: We are working closely with the media and Tennis South Africa to maximize exposure for all participants. Through strategic partnerships, we aim to highlight your skills and showcase the event to a wider audience.
- Event Details: The Showdown is scheduled to take place on May 27th at Midstream Estates in Pretoria. Further information and specific instructions will be provided to participants during the week leading up to the event.
- Draft and Teams: The event will feature a draft to select players. While we have already identified some players, more will be joining the draft. Four team owners have purchased teams and will be recruiting players through a live draft on social media. Each recruited player will receive a payment of R2000 for their participation, while the reserves will receive R500 for their appearances. A total of 28 players will be selected.
- Format: The format of the event will be determined through a vote by the team owners. They can choose between a Round Robin format, where the team with the most points emerges as the winner, or a Playoff format consisting of a semifinal, final, and 3rd-4th place playoff. The draw for the matches in the Playoff format will be conducted on draft day.

PLAYER RULES

- Team Composition: There will be four teams, each estimated to have three men and three women players, creating a balanced and competitive environment.
- Match Durations: Matches will vary in length depending on the category:
- Men's Singles: Each match will have a duration of 20/30 minutes, depending on the chosen format.

- Mixed Doubles: Each match will have a duration of 20/30 minutes.
- Match Structure:
- Each match will last for a total of 20/30 minutes.
- A 5-minute break will be provided after each match.
- Players will have two serves, and then they will rotate. The matches will follow a tiebreaker format, where points are accumulated instead of games. The team will have an overall score, similar to rugby or basketball.
- Gameplay Strategy:
- The first 10/15 minutes of each match will feature players of similar strength facing each other.
- After the initial period, a 5-minute strategy break will be allowed for players and coaches to discuss tactics.

PLAYER RULES

- During the last 10/15 minutes of the match, team owners will have the option to make player substitutions.
- Players cannot face the same opponent within the first 10/15 minutes when a change is made.
- Coaching and Support: Coaching is allowed, and each team will have a dedicated coach to provide guidance and assistance to the players.
- Prize Money: Teams will compete for significant prize money, the exact amount of which will be announced two days before the draft. The prize pool will be an additional incentive for the players to perform at their best.
