Rivane Neuenschwander

The Portrait of a Phantom

- Try to remember if you ever saw or felt or experienced a phantom in your early childhood (you can also think of a more recent phantom).

- Give your phantom a name, place of origin, shape, features, characteristics, habits. Is it friendly or scary? Where does the phantom live? Do you like its company at all?

- Make a portrait of your phantom (drawing, painting, video, sound, sculpture, whatever media you find most appropriate to represent it).

- If you wish, make a diagram showing all facts that are related to your phantom, like its favorite food, color, music, book, hour of the day or night.

- Think of a word that can make your phantom disappear or appear.

- Ask your friends and/or family about their phantoms.

- If you find it appropriate, write a short story based on your own experience and read it for your phantom, whenever it is time for it to go to sleep.
