July 6, 11:15am
Wood Auditorium

Countermeasures

Emanuel Admassu '12 MSAAD, '13 AAR will be introduced by Jordan H. Carver, who will be joined by Kabage Karanja and Stella Mutegi in responding to the presentation and hosting the Q&A.

Emanuel Admassu is an architect and assistant professor at Columbia GSAPP. He is a founding partner, with Jen Wood, of AD—WO, an art and architecture practice based in New York, and by extension, between Melbourne and Addis Ababa. He is also a co-founding board member of the Black Reconstruction Collective.

Organized by the MSAAD program at GSAPP.

July 8, 3pm
Governors Island, NY

Experimental Landings is an exhibition that interrogates how designers assert agency through the representation, organization, and formation of land. “Landings” is thus intended to “activate” a familiar architectural term that recognizes the often binary and dissociated realms of site versus property, ground versus territory.

The exhibition will feature the Natural Materials Lab’s project Earth Pendulum led by Jennah Jones ‘23 MArch. Join the Natural Materials Lab, directed by Assistant Professor Lola Ben-Alon, at 3PM for a gallery talk and 5PM for the exhibition opening.
