COLUMBUS
JULY 10 - 16

TAMER FUND FOR SOCIAL VENTURES

The Tamer Fund for Social Enterprise at Columbia Business School is now accepting applications for the 2021-2022 Tamer Fund for Social Ventures. The Tamer Fund will make up to 20 investments of $100,000 each in non-profit and start-up social ventures that are founded, led, and managed by individuals who are MArch students at GSAPP.

CAREER SERVICES

The Avery Workshops is a series of professional information sessions held on three days, students, alumni, and researchers from a cross-disciplinary perspective to explore the practice of Urban Planning and Preservation in the lens of cultural stewardship.

GSAPP RECOMMENDS

- CEDR, BOSCO - Studio of New York and London, with a focus on the transformation of the Eiffel Tower and Paris, France. Last week, the Studio opened a pop-up shop in New York's Tribeca neighborhood. The studio is led by Jennifer Robles, Michael Reihle, and Fiona Brown, among others.
- Bishal Giri, an MArch student at GSAPP, has been named to the World's Best Architecture Schools list by Architectural Digest. Giri is a member of the Architecture Studio at GSAPP, which focuses on the relationship between architecture and the environment.
- Samir Bantal, GSAPP alumni (1984 MArch), will participate in the event "Women in Architecture" with his firm, Bishal Giri. The event will be held on July 13 at 6:30 pm.
- The Architecture and Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) will host a series of lectures on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 15 at 7 pm.
- The Graduate Center for Inclusion and Belonging will host a series of workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 14 at 5 pm.
- The Graduate School of Design at the Harvard Graduate School of Design (HGS) will host a series of virtual workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 16 at 11:05 am.
- The Tamer Fund for Social Ventures at Columbia University will host a series of virtual workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 16, 11:05 am.

CLIMATE CHANGE IN THE ARAB WORLD

This series on the Climate Change in the Arab World is a conversation series. It will be held on July 16, 11:05 am. The series will be hosted by Samir Bantal, an MArch student at GSAPP, and will be moderated by Joan Busquets, an MArch student at GSAPP.

GSAPP CONVERSATIONS ARCHIVE

- "Women in Architecture" with Bishal Giri, GSAPP alumni (1984 MArch), and Samir Bantal, GSAPP alumni (2008 MArch), on July 13 at 6:30 pm.
- "Climate Change in the Arab World" with Samir Bantal, an MArch student at GSAPP, on July 15 at 7 pm.
- "Women in Architecture" with Bishal Giri, GSAPP alumni (1984 MArch), on July 13 at 6:30 pm.
- "Climate Change in the Arab World" with Samir Bantal, an MArch student at GSAPP, on July 15 at 7 pm.
- "Women in Architecture" with Bishal Giri, GSAPP alumni (1984 MArch), and Samir Bantal, GSAPP alumni (2008 MArch), on July 13 at 6:30 pm.
- "Climate Change in the Arab World" with Samir Bantal, an MArch student at GSAPP, on July 15 at 7 pm.

GSAPP RECOMMENDS

- CEDR, BOSCO - Studio of New York and London, with a focus on the transformation of the Eiffel Tower and Paris, France. Last week, the Studio opened a pop-up shop in New York's Tribeca neighborhood. The studio is led by Jennifer Robles, Michael Reihle, and Fiona Brown, among others.
- Bishal Giri, an MArch student at GSAPP, has been named to the World's Best Architecture Schools list by Architectural Digest. Giri is a member of the Architecture Studio at GSAPP, which focuses on the relationship between architecture and the environment.
- Samir Bantal, GSAPP alumni (1984 MArch), will participate in the event "Women in Architecture" with his firm, Bishal Giri. The event will be held on July 13 at 6:30 pm.
- The Architecture and Art Institute of Chicago (SAIC) will host a series of lectures on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 15 at 7 pm.
- The Graduate Center for Inclusion and Belonging will host a series of workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 14 at 5 pm.
- The Graduate School of Design at the Harvard Graduate School of Design (HGS) will host a series of virtual workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 16 at 11:05 am.
- The Tamer Fund for Social Ventures at Columbia University will host a series of virtual workshops on "Climate Change in the Arab World." The event will be held on July 16, 11:05 am.

CLIMATE CHANGE IN THE ARAB WORLD

This series on the Climate Change in the Arab World is a conversation series. It will be held on July 16, 11:05 am. The series will be hosted by Samir Bantal, an MArch student at GSAPP, and will be moderated by Joan Busquets, an MArch student at GSAPP.