Maximize Giving

Mission:

To minimize my living & maximize my giving. I will be scaling down my wants and focusing on real needs. Just by renting The Magic Skool Bus for 3 months out of the year I can build an entire school through Pencils of Promise.

Story:

Now more than ever we have complicated our lives. We buy things we can't afford to impress people we don't like. The vicious cycle of keeping up with the Jones' rages on until we are drowning in debt, depression or both. The human condition is prone to filling voids with THINGS instead of giving ourselves fully to our creator and to others who are just as empty as we are.

Im just as guilty as the next person when it comes to this but recently I stumbled upon a documentary called The Minimalists and something clicked for me. I no longer want to throw away thousands of dollars a month to rent a place I'll never own. I no longer see the need in buying a house with space I don't need. I have decided to get rid of all my clutter internally & externally and start fresh. I spend much of the year on the road either working or adventuring so building my own converted school bus seems like an amazing fit!

My mind moves 1000x a minute and my ideas are NOT minimal. So in this quest to minimize my life, I decided to prove that not only could I simply my life by downsizing but that I would be able to edify someone else's life at the same time.

ENTER THE MAGIC SKOOL BUS!

I have decided to build the most magical rolling living quarters on the planet. A bus that will not only be my home but it will serve as a mobile hotel that will help fund the building of schools all over the world. 263 million children worldwide have no access to schools. Many children out of school live in areas of conflict. In many areas girls live in societies that do not advocate educating females and while others live in countries that do not make secondary school compulsory.

Our project will benefit Pencils of Promise for-purpose network, through which we can build a safe haven for learning for children everywhere. I was more than blessed to have an amazing upbringing and my elementary school years alone shaped who I am. I've always been free to be an imaginative learner. This RIGHT to learn is not afforded to everyone. The Magic Skool Bus can be the conduit in changing the lives of children in every country. But I need your help. A task like this is not easy and it's certainly not coming free. However once the bus is built it truly will be the gift that keeps on giving and you can play a HUGE part of it.

About Us:

We are undertaking a massive project overhauling a school bus into a tiny mobile home known as a "Skoolie." We aim to raise awareness that 263 million children worldwide have no access to schools. Our goal after rehabbing the bus is to make it available for rent in different locations around the US. Proceeds of rental income (after expenses) will benefit Pencils of Promise. Our goal is to generate enough capital to build one school a year (35K) in a developing nation.

In-Kind Donations:

We are accepting donations of goods and services to help rehab our bus.

Kamari Copeland; SAG/AFTRA Performer, Personal Trainer, Internet Personality & Lifestyle Entrepreneur

KAMARI COPELAND is a lifestyle entrepreneur & ISSA certified personal trainer based in Los Angeles, CA. She served as fitness director for the Unbreakable Tour with Grammy-nominated artist Tori Kelly. The 90D2N workout program created by Copeland and adopted by Kelly was featured in SELF magazine. Demand for training tips, counsel and advice led her to create the Meet & Cheat food & fitness tour which grew to 22 events in 2016 spanning the US, Canada, and UK.

Copeland has developed a diverse catalogue of HIIT programs to maximize results for a range of clients from novice to pro-athlete. Her programs are available online via the Trainerize app and include 21-day cycles & meal plans. She regularly hosts innovative 60-day and 90-day fitness challenges that keep her students motivated and focused on their goals.

Copeland launched a Masterclass webinar series in 2017 to share fitness and spiritual strategies for success. She has a rich background in the entertainment industry which amplifies her ability to develop energetic and dynamic programming. She honed her improv skills at the renowned Second City conservatory and is adept at juggling many tasks with changing variables. Her resume credits include work as a session singer for 6 seasons of FOX's hit-TV series GLEE and backing vocals for major recording artists Josh Groban, Mariah Carey, CeeLo & Childish Gambino.

Copeland's social media portfolio includes featured roles in viral parodies. Bridesmaidz 2, directed by MTV sensation Todrick Hall, has 2.5million+ views. Stranger Fruit created by Pentatonix's Scott Hoying & Mitch Grassi has 3.5million+ Facebook streams and 1million+ YouTube views. Copeland has made appearances on Ryan Parma & Mario Dominic's Wonderful World of What & the Kingdom Diversity podcast. Her YouTube Channel features original content including webisodes w/ rising star Jordan Fisher. Her popular SnapChat series features a slate of original characters and her newest project The Everythingist Adventures is available on Patreon & YouTube.

Copeland is passionate about volunteering and outreach. She has spearheaded charity events including Swaggle Rok for Feed 'Em All, Le Carnival Invisible to benefit children of Uganda, and the Project Blackboard campaign in support of Precious Kids Center in Kitale, Kenya.

Copeland's blend of sass, spunk, comedy and compassion makes her approachable and sets the tone for joy in every venture she undertakes. She challenges herself and encourages others. She champions the merits of physical strength but pairs this with strength of character. Her eclectic & widespread appeal is evidenced by a growing client list which includes musicians, athletes, academics, artists, professionals, wanderers & dreamers.
