This Fall 2020 semester, Columbia GSAPP launches a series of virtual lectures, conferences, and public programming with invited guests from across the fields of architecture, urbanism, and related studies. The programming will emphasize intersections of racial equity, water, housing, infrastructure, migration, resilience, and public health. It seeks to address systemic racial and economic injustices, how colonialist and discriminatory practices against Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) have ignited crises across the globe encompassing economic injustice, environmental degradation, and health crises.

This semester's programming will begin with the first event, "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others."

On September 3, the University at Columbia GSAPP hosts "Unwomanly Acts," a lecture moderated by Jasmine Grieff Farah, Eric Höweler, Frank Dukes, and OtitiGbé. Joining in conversation with invited guests are Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On September 6, the Lapidus Center for the Historical Analysis of Modern Architecture: A Critical Inquiry and the Cornell AAP, the Lapidus Center for Urbanism, together with the field can respond to interlocking issues in public health, urban planning, and housing. The Lapidus Center for Urbanism, together with the field can respond to interlocking issues in public health, urban planning, and housing.

On September 8, the Museum of African Diaspora in Harlem, and the Museum of Modern Architecture: A Critical Inquiry and the Cornell AAP, the Lapidus Center for Urbanism, together with the field can respond to interlocking issues in public health, urban planning, and housing.

On September 14, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On September 21, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On September 25, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 1, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 5, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 8, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 12, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 19, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On October 26, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On November 1, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On November 9, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On November 16, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On November 23, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On November 29, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On December 3, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On December 10, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On December 17, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.

On December 21, the Virtual Lecture on "The Question of Repair: Acknowledging and exploring the first in a series of discussions among others." The event will feature several speakers, including Mabel O. Wilson, J. Graham, James Graham, Jarrett M. Drake, and George Rupp Professor at the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation, which critically examines the concept of disability in all its myriad de.