"I've taken my three kids (two girls and a boy) to and helped run more than 200 US Chess rated tournaments. When kids know the tournaments are rated, they are even more motivated to try their hardest. Recently I sponsored an At Risk Youth team, so they would also have the opportunity to travel to and compete in a scholastic national championship. I volunteer my time and donate to US Chess because chess is a wonderful way for kids to compete and for families to connect."

SUPER NATIONALS

Held every four years, SuperNationals brings the three spring scholastic nationals — elementary, middle, and high school championships — under one roof for an exciting event unmatched in scope, size, and energy as individuals and teams compete for national championship titles. SuperNationals is one of the most anticipated scholastic chess events in the country and is not to be missed.

SuperNationals VIII is expected to draw more than 20,000 people, and will be held at the Orange County Convention Center, a premier venue in Orlando that hosts some of the most dynamic regional, national, and international events in the country.

Largest chess event ever
SuperNationals VI, held in 2017, is the current world record holder with 5,577 participants. SuperNationals VIII is anticipated to break that record with more than 6,000 participants. Don't miss being part of this history-making event.

Side events and special guests
SuperNationals VIII will boast supersized side events and special guests. In addition to the always-popular bughouse and blitz tournaments, which also grant national titles, look for guest grandmasters, simuls, lectures, livestreaming, vendors, and more.

Ideal location
With its many theme parks, Orlando is the most visited tourist destination in the United States. The Convention Center District lies in the heart of the area's tourism district surrounded by world-class dining, shopping, and entertainment.

CHESS IN THE U.S.

Recent studies estimate that more than 13 million Americans play chess regularly, while another 46.6 million play occasionally. That doesn't surprise us at US Chess — we're in the middle of a boom that shows no signs of abating. Three Americans are in the world's top 10 and six in the top 20. Our focus is on nurturing the next generation, and our national tournaments are consistently setting new attendance records.

Chess is universal. It's a unique bridge between cultures, because anyone can play chess regardless of age, gender, physical capacities, or even language. Our tournaments — scholastics, in particular — reflect our rich diversity, transcending perceived differences and building a strong community.

Sponsors of our events gain exposure to a broad, engaged, and diverse audience, both in our flagship magazine Chess Life (with a print circulation of over 18,000) and on our Chess Life Online website, which attracts 110,000 unique users each month seeking the latest chess news, tournament opportunities, local clubs, and more.
