

IN MEMORIAM: FACULTY
RICHARD FROEHLICH

We are deeply saddened to share the loss of Richard Froehlich '85 CC '88 LAW, a longtime adjunct faculty member at Columbia GSAPP. Rich is remembered as a creative problem solver, a skilled negotiator, and a true champion of the City's efforts to support so many of its most vulnerable residents. He will be greatly missed.

SEPTEMBER 27 – OCTOBER 1

This week, architect Wanda Dalla Costa delivers a lecture on decolonizing design, and data science scholar Jamie Saxon speaks about neighborhood-level mobility in Chicago.

WANDA DALLA COSTA

September 27, 6:30pm
Wood Auditorium, Virtual

Pluriverse Rising: Decolonizing Design

Wanda Dalla Costa, AIA, LEED A.P. holds a joint position at Arizona State University between The Design School as Institute Professor, where she directs the Indigenous Design Collaborative, and the School of Construction as Associate Professor. She is a member of the Saddle Lake First Nation, the first female First Nation architect licensed in Canada, and has spent nearly 20 years working with Indigenous communities in North America.

Assistant Professor Lola Ben-Alon will be present in Wood Auditorium for the introduction and response. Audience members are invited to participate in a Q&A with Wanda Dalla Costa live or via Zoom webinar.

JAMIE SAXON

Virtual, 114 Avery

Structures of Local Mobility in Chicago

Lecture by Jamie Saxon, a postdoctoral fellow of the Center for Data and Computing at the Department of Computer Science & Center for Spatial Data Science at the University of Chicago.

Having observed the mobility of Chicago residents through a large dataset of smartphone users, Saxon's research constructs a neighborhood-level mobility network for the city and characterizes neighborhoods according to their local graph structure.

Organized by the M.S.UP program as part of the Lectures in Planning Series.
