URBAN PLANNING
NEWSLETTER
DECEMBER 6, 2019

Contributions or ideas for the newsletter can be submitted to: urbanplanning@ualberta.ca

Lecture in Planning Series

FINDING THE FAULT LINES

Estimating the Boundaries in Urban Social Spatial Inequality

Luo, Wei

Luo Wei presented his talk entitled "FINDING THE FAULT LINES: Estimating the Boundaries in Urban Social Spatial Inequality" on December 6th, which examined the dynamics between social, economic, and spatial segregation in cities. The talk highlighted the importance of understanding these dynamics in order to develop effective policies and interventions. Luo Wei is a renowned urban planner and is currently working on several projects related to urban segregation and inequality.

Open Call: Identity Singapore

Identity Singapore is an initiative that explores the multifaceted aspects of urban identity in Singapore. This project aims to explore the complex web of social, cultural, and economic factors that shape the identity of Singapore's urban landscape. The project involves a series of workshops, public discussions, and exhibitions that engage with a diverse range of stakeholders, including urban planners, designers, artists, and residents. The Identity Singapore project is committed to fostering a deeper understanding of the urban identity and to promoting a more inclusive and diverse cityscape.

Student Spotlight

Where are you from?
Washington, D.C.

What did you study for your undergraduate degree?
Urban planning

What do you enjoy most about your current role?
I enjoy the opportunity to work on a wide range of projects and to collaborate with a diverse team of professionals.

What do you miss most about your home country?
I miss thefriends and family I left behind in Washington, D.C.

Why did you choose to study at Dalhousie University?
I was attracted to the university's strong urban planning program and the opportunity to study in a city with such a rich history.
SECOND YEAR STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

Megh Saluja Chinnan

Where are you from?
Cork, Ireland

What and where did you study for your Bachelor's degree?
IB at St. Ignatius Loyola High School in New York City

Did you choose to stay at Stony Brook University? Why?
Yes, I thought it was the perfect fit for me as it is close to home, has a great faculty, and is also a beautiful place.

What do you enjoy about urban planning classes so far and why?
I enjoy the hands-on and project-based learning that we've been doing so far. It allows us to apply the theories we learn in a practical way.

What is your favorite thing about working in urban planning?
I love the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of people and the environment. Urban planning is about creating sustainable communities that are livable and vibrant.

What are your future plans for the real estate industry?
I'm interested in pursuing a career in urban planning, specifically in sustainable development and renewable energy. I want to be part of the solution in creating a more sustainable future.

Do you have any side hobbies?
I enjoy playing the piano and spending time with my family.

UPCOMING EVENTS

- "The Right to Housing: A Global Perspective" Conference, Friday, December 6, Stony Brook University, Center for Law and Economics, 2 PM.
- "Reimagining the City: Urban Planning in the 21st Century" Conference, Saturday, December 7, Stony Brook University, Center for Law and Economics, 9 AM.
- "The Future of Urban Planning: Adapting to Climate Change" Conference, Sunday, December 8, Stony Brook University, Center for Law and Economics, 1 PM.

For more information, visit StonyBrookUniversity.edu/UrbanPlanning.

"The Art of Writing and Leadership Series: The Power of Story" Workshop, Tuesday, January 30, 2023, Stony Brook University, Center for Law and Economics, 2 PM.

"The Power of Story: How to Use It to Influence Your Audience" Workshop, Wednesday, January 31, 2023, Stony Brook University, Center for Law and Economics, 1 PM.

Suggested Readings:
- "The Art of Storytelling in Urban Planning" by Andrew S. Pasquale
- "Making Stories Matter: How to Make Your Message Work" by Susan L. Pfeiffer

For more information, visit StonyBrookUniversity.edu/UrbanPlanning.

Uncategorized: How to Build

Feature in Global Forum

Copy and paste the HTML below into your presentation.

---

Source: Stony Brook University

Author: Megh Saluja Chinnan

Publication Date: December 2022

Stony Brook University
450 West Main Street
Stony Brook, NY 11794

E-mail: info@StonyBrookUniversity.edu

Website: StonyBrookUniversity.edu

---