This reading was compiled by SRC and other contributors to the exhibition. The list includes many publisher artists who have written about the practice of publishing, art books fairs, financial practices and art books through various perspectives.

Reading List

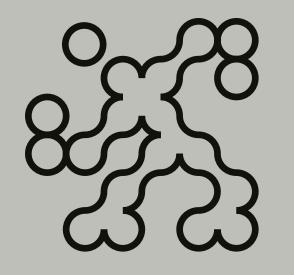

Dimensions is collaborative project making the invisible aspects of independent publishing visible. Secret Riso Club, a Brooklyn based independent publisher, design studio, and printing workshop have collaborated with others across the world to identify and connect the tangible and intangible dimensions of their practice. The exhibition offers a closer look into the primarily unseen aspects of practices of 10 different artist/publishers.
