THE CLUB

The Markets & Coffee Club was born from the need to foster greater confidence and knowledge amongst our students when attending networking events, speaker events, and job interviews. Establishing a casual but educative conversation between the real estate finance theory learned in class and integrated with current events in the market can make the learning process fun and beneficial to students that want to learn more outside the classroom.

Professor Munsell and professor Cohane will be the moderators of the club. Both are highly motivated professors that love to teach and certainly inspire students to do better and to want to learn more.
