YALE SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

As mediators, we will learn from the generations before us to instill histories in architectural education and the profession. As architectural professionals, we will imagine endless possibilities for those yet to be born, an architecture of the spirit.

School of Architecture will continue to work, advance, and teach these memoral remain impacted by discussions of space and place. Yale will continue to work, advance, and teach these memoral remain impacted by discussions of space and place.

The Indigenous peoples who have stewarded these lands for time immemorial remain impacted by discussions of space and place. Yale School of Architecture sits on traditional Indigenous territories. This includes lands of the Mohegan, Mohican, Niantic, Quinnipiac, and other Algonquian speaking peoples. We pay respect to their peoples of past and present.

Paugussett, Niantic, Quinnipiac, and other Algonquian speaking peoples. We pay respect to their peoples of past and present.

Mashantucket Pequot, Eastern Pequot, Schaghticoke, Golden Hill territories. This includes lands of the Mohegan, Mohican, Niantic, Quinnipiac, and other Algonquian speaking peoples. We pay respect to their peoples of past and present.

As architectural professionals, we will imagine endless possibilities for those yet to be born, an architecture of the spirit. As mediators, we will learn from the generations before us to instill histories in architectural education and the profession.