The Engineering Talent Awards 2022, powered by EqualEngineers celebrates the diversity of the engineering and technology profession.

The awards aim to raise the profile of the engineering and technology professions across the UK and highlight diversity in engineering on a national platform. Through showcasing role models and inspiring people to consider a career in engineering and technology, we can celebrate the diversity of organisations and engineers.

The event will attract over 250 guests from engineering and technology professionals, along with senior leaders in business.

WHY SUPPORT?

- Raise the profile of the engineering and technology professions across the UK and highlight diversity in engineering on a national platform.
- Through elevating positive role models, inspire people to consider a career in engineering and technology.
- Celebrate the value that engineers bring to society in improving everyday life.
- Connect people in engineering and technology to foster greater collaboration.
- Champion the diversity of organisations delivering excellent engineering projects.

CATEGORY SUPPORTERS £3,000 +VAT for each one below

1. Engineer of the Year 2022

Achieving professional registration is an achievement in every engineer's career. This category recognises engineers who have successfully completed their Engineering Technician (EngTech); Incorporated Engineer (IEng); Chartered Engineer (CEng); Information and Communications Technology Technician (ICTTech) qualification and are now excelling in their career and inspiring others to consider a career in engineering.

2. Engineering Apprentice of the Year 2022

This category will recognise an apprentice who is not only excelling in their role, but also acting as an ambassador for the engineering profession to inspire more people to consider an apprenticeship as a viable career alternative.

CATEGORY SUPPORTERS

£3,000 +VAT for each one below

3. Engineering Student of the Year 2022

This award will commend an inspirational student currently studying for their engineering degree who has not yet graduated, who promotes studying engineering to others and is passionate about creating an inclusive industry.

4. Engineering Graduate of the Year 2022

This award will celebrate someone who has demonstrated a passion for engineering throughout their studies, and has continued pursuing this passion through new avenues in the workplace, especially those who are helping to create a diverse and inclusive engineering workforce.

5. Engineering Returner of the Year 2022

This award will recognise an inspiring individual who has left the profession (for whatever reason) and has made the conscious decision to return to the profession, and has done so with ongoing success.

6. Executive Leader of the Year 2022

This awards celebrates an inspirational executive leader who has used their personal influence to pave the way for creating an inclusive culture.

7. Innovation of the Year 2022

A world without STEM is a world without innovation. This award recognises and celebrates innovation in engineering, science and technology across all disciplines and especially from engineers across all backgrounds.

8. Inclusion Programme of the Year 2022

Inclusion is widely recognised as the mind-set needed to increase attraction and retention within engineering. Accessing some communities is easier than others. This category recognises organisations that are inclusive and support and welcome people from all backgrounds, whilst ensuring everyone is heard, listened to and respected.

9. Engineering Society of the Year 2022

This award recognises an engineering society which has achieved something exceptional, having had an impact beyond its members and created a lasting effect.

CATEGORY SUPPORTERS

£3,000 +VAT for each one below

10. Employee Network of the Year 2022

Employee networks bring people together with a shared, common identity or interest. These networks can become strong influencers in changing the culture of an organisation and this award recognises employee networks who have shown demonstrable impact over the past twelve months in engagement and widening the diversity conversation.

11. Small-Medium Enterprise of the Year 2022

This award recognises a Small-Medium Enterprise (SME) which has made a commitment to support the development of its people and is doing what it can with resources available to widen participation and create a more diverse and inclusive engineering industry.

12. Large Employer of the Year 2022

This category will celebrate an employer who comprehensively supports its engineers, and who proactively promotes diversity and creating an inclusive profession.
