

Audio Transcript: I Am Simon Liu

Simon Liu:

I'm Simon Liu. My work centers on accumulating emotionally charged, often sensorily overwhelming images, sounds, and impressions from my home of Hong Kong. This practice has intensified in recent times as the city has faced unprecedented change and upheaval. This work interrogates deeply personal experiences and family heritage in the context of overwhelming change and uncertainty. It investigates the duplicitous nature of truth and acts as a site for remembrance, for attachments to a homeland, and sense of belonging I desperately wish to hold on to.
