Meet the Visionary Founders of BBCO

Championing Excellence, Empowerment, and Prosperity for the Black Community

Dr. Picolya McCall

"I am glad to be one of the co-founders of the Black Business Cooperative where my clinical expertise and passion to build my community through power, health, healing, and strength, aligns with our mission to Empower, shape, and foster prosperity through networking and collaborations within the black community."

LyNea Bell

"I am thrilled to embark on this journey as a co founder of a groundbreaking venture - Black Business CoOp. Our mission is to Empower Excellence, Shape Success, and foster prosperity through innovation and the power of diversity."

Sharifah Hardie

"In 2023 Black people are still on the very bottom of every list that matters from education to home ownership, from business ownership to marriage, all the way from land ownership to life expectancy. The only list Black people are at the top of is incarceration. We are #1 in incarceration. It's time to change that."
