

WINKELMAN LECTURE:
VANESSA VELASCO

June 7, 9am
Italian Academy (1161 Amsterdam Ave.)

Vanessa Velasco is an Urban Development Specialist at the World Bank. Since joining the Bank, she has supported projects in Colombia, Peru, Mexico, and Jamaica on urban and regional policy, housing policy, land value capture, urban regeneration, Transit Oriented Development (TOD), and local economic development.

Breakfast reception to follow.

The annual Winkelman Lecture was established in 1981 by Doryan Winkelman '86 MSRED.

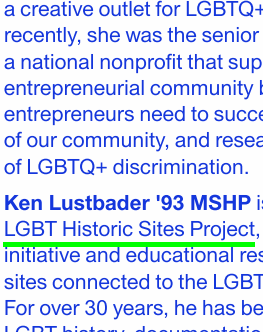

ARGUMENTS LECTURE:
DANIEL BARBER

June 8, 11:15am
Wood Auditorium

Daniel Barber is a 2022 Guggenheim Fellow, and currently based at the University of Technology Sydney. Barber's latest book Modern Architecture and Climate: Design before Air Conditioning explores how leading architects of the twentieth century incorporated climate-mediating strategies into their designs, and shows how regional approaches to climate adaptability were essential to the development of modern architecture.

Organized by the MSAAD Program at GSAPP.

PRIDE MONTH AT GSAPP

On the occasion of Pride Month, Columbia GSAPP is highlighting LGBTQ+ alumni whose work spans multiple disciplines throughout the month of June. For more resources and events, read Interim Dean Weiping Wu's letter "Taking Pride" and the Columbia News article "Celebrating Pride Month 2022 at Columbia."

Angelic Williams '13 MSRED is an entrepreneur, startup ecosystem builder, and changemaker. She is the founder and CEO of MyUmbrella: an online platform that serves as a creative outlet for LGBTQ+ community members. Most recently, she was the senior program manager at StartOut, a national nonprofit that supports the LGBTQ+ entrepreneurial community by providing the resources entrepreneurs need to succeed, promoting the successes of our community, and researching the economic impacts of LGBTQ+ discrimination.

Ken Lustbader '93 MSHP is a co-director of the NYC LGBT Historic Sites Project, the first cultural heritage initiative and educational resource to document historic sites connected to the LGBT community in New York City.

For over 30 years, he has been exploring issues related to LGBT history, documentation, and historic preservation.

More recently, he co-authored the "LGBT History Tour, Greenwich Village, NYC" walking tour brochure and map, which highlights LGBT historic sites around Stonewall National Monument, and guest-edited issue 8.2 LGBTQ Heritage (2019) for Change Over Time: An International Journal of Conservation and the Built Environment.
