

September 14, 2020

Welcome to the second week of GSAPP classes! In case you missed the All-School Orientation hosted by Dean Amale Andraos last Wednesday, please watch the recording online.

Tonight at 6PM, please join us as industrial designer Stephen Burks talks about how his design practice engages hand production as strategy for innovation. On Tuesday, we invite you to hear urban planning scholar Robert Goodspeed discuss how modeling and simulation tools can be usefully employed to analyze uncertainties in long-term planning processes. Also coming up is a talk by Director of NYU's Citizen Science program Debra Laefer, who will speak about advanced remote sensing capabilities in the field of historic preservation; and a symposium about the book Race and Modern Architecture, presented by co-editors Professor Mabel O. Wilson, Irene Cheng and Charles L. Davis II.
Scroll down for details and additional events.

SEPTEMBER 14-18

STEPHEN BURKS IN CONVERSATION WITH AMALE ANDRAOS

September 14, 6pm
Virtual Lecture

Burks, founder of Stephen Burks Man Made, is one of the most recognized American industrial designers of his generation. Burks is a recipient of the IIT Alumni Professional Achievement Award, the Brooklyn Museum Modernism Young Designer Award, the A&W, Architektur & Wohnen Audi Mentor Prize and the United States Artists Architecture & Design Target Fellowship Grant, as well as being the first African-American to win the Smithsonian Cooper Hewitt National Design Award in Product Design.

ROBERT GOODSPEED

September 15, 1pm
Virtual Lecture

Goodspeed is Assistant Professor of Urban Planning at Taubman College at the University of Michigan. Drawing on his recent book, Scenario Planning for Cities and Regions, Goodspeed will highlight innovative examples of professional practice, touch on related research on urban informatics and planning support systems, and propose new ways scenario planning can be applied to current issues such as pandemic response, evictions, mobility transitions, and climate change.
Organized as part of the Lectures in Planning Series.

BEFORE, DURING & AFTER GSAPP

September 15, 7:30pm
Virtual

LatinGSAPP hosts an Alumni Conversation on the topic of shared identity of being from Latin America in the United States, with Luiza Canuto '19 M.Arch, Cecilia Gonzalez '19 MSAAD, Jose Gerardo Ponte Neto '18 MSAUD, and Pauline Claramunt '19 MSUP.
Moderated by Ines Yupanqui '17 MSAAD, organized by the LatinGSAPP Student Organization.

HYBRID COMMUNITY, OR HOW TO CREATE A VIRTUAL WATERCOOLER

September 16, 7pm
Virtual

The first in a series of Fall 2020 Blended Learning workshops for GSAPP students in all programs. "Hybrid Community" focuses on Mesh modeling, texturing, and Mozilla hubs and is led by Bika Rebek with Guest Matt Shaw. Students will enter a virtual environment together and learn how to import images, live-feed and 3d models into a collective VR model.

DEBRA LAEFER

September 17, 6:30pm
Virtual Lecture

Laefer is a Professor of Urban Informatics at NYU's Center for Urban Science and the Department of Civil and Urban Engineering. This talk will cover aerial remote sensing platforms and advances in laser scanning and hyperspectral imagery. Laefer will also reflect on lessons learned on equipment limitations and processing challenges; where the industry is likely to be in 5 years from a technology perspective; and the role of such technologies amidst the current debate on public monuments.
Organized as part of the Preservation Lecture Series.

RACE AND MODERN ARCHITECTURE

September 18, 3pm
Virtual Event

A symposium to present Race and Modern Architecture: A Critical History from the Enlightenment to the Present, published by the University of Pittsburgh Press. Edited by Mabel O. Wilson, Nancy and George Rupp Professor at GSAPP; Irene Cheng; and Charles L. Davis II. The event will feature presentations by Esra Akcan; Adrienne Brown; Luis E. Carranza, GSAPP; Jiat-Hwee Chang; Mark Crinson; Kenny Cupers; Addison Godel; Dianne Harris; Andrew Herscher; Reinhold Martin, GSAPP; Brian D. McLaren; Joanna Merwood-Salisbury; Peter Minosh; Adedoyin Teriba; and Lisa Uddin.
Co-presented by California College of the Arts and The University at Buffalo School of Architecture and Planning.

OUR STORIES: EXPERIENCES WITH HOUSING, RACE, RACISM, AND WHITENESS

September 18, 1pm
Virtual

GSAPP's Housing Lab begins a series of informal and interdisciplinary open conversations on housing, race, racism, and whiteness. This first session will be facilitated by Lab members including Juan Moreno, Johane Clermont, Eric Iglesias, Jiazhen Lin, Maru Perez, Bernadette Baird-Zars, and others. Before this session, participants are asked to reflect on their own experiences and professional encounters with housing and race, and housing and whiteness.

MANDATORY NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

September 18, 9AM
