WORKING WITH COVE.TOOL

March 23, 1pm

Virtual

Cove.tool enables beautiful analysis graphics for energy, daylight, carbon, and HVAC. This event offers students an opportunity to learn and create energy, daylight, carbon, and HVAC assessments. Students are recommended to join this workshop from their studio computer, with access to a 3D model.

Organized as part of the TechSHOPS, an initiative launched by the Building Science and Technology Sequence of the Master in Architecture Program at Columbia GSAPP.

ALUMNI CONVERSATION

March 23, 1:30pm

Virtual

Columbia GSAPP students are invited to join a group of alumni professionals to learn about their work and professional paths. This conversation is part of the Alumni Conversations program, a series of informal one-hour conversations for current students in a small group format. This event is primarily for current PhD students and is moderated by Mauren Abi Ghanem and Stefan Norgaard.

Organized by the Office of Development and Alumni Relations at Columbia GSAPP.

RACE, SPACE, AND ARCHITECTURE

March 23, 6:30pm

Virtual

Race, Space and Architecture: Reflections on a Curriculum

A discussion among Suzi Hall, Associate Professor at the London School of Economics; Huda Tayob, Senior Lecturer at the University of Cape Town and a CCA Mellon Fellow; and Thandi Loewenson, an architectural designer and researcher. Emanuel Admassu, Assistant Professor at Columbia GSAPP, will provide the response.

COUNTING LAND

Today at 12pm

Virtual

There has never been a way to account for land—its size, location, or monetary value—without also counting people. From 17th Century cadastral surveys to contemporary gerrymandering, the questions of what to build, for whom, and where, have always depended on the question: “for how many?” Alma Steingard and Benedict Clouette will address postwar attempts to design spatial overlaps between physical and political boundaries in the United States, through computation, districting, and housing.

Organized by the Buell Center at Columbia GSAPP.

ERIC LIFTIN

Today at 12:30pm

114 Avery

NYC Adventures in Mass Timber

A lecture by Eric Liftin '94 MArch, founder of MESH Architects. The firm explores new materials and technologies, such as sustainable design (passive house), mass timber, LED lighting, and digital interfaces.

Organized by the M.S. in Real Estate Development Program at Columbia GSAPP.

Student Party

Friday, March 25, 5:00–8:00 PM

Avery Plaza

Please join Dean Weiping Wu at a school-wide celebration for students to mark the return of in-person social events as we enter the second half of the semester, with DJ sets organized by LatinGSAPP and BSA+GSAPP.
