EMERGENCE

This semester, our theme is EMERGENCE. We're looking for content that begins to think about how paradigm shifts such as the GREEN NEW DEAL and the NEW URBAN AGENDA tackle climate change and sustainable development in a fresh, innovative and intersectional way. This is a shift in how we process and think through the policies and design of spaces for the present and future. Our main question here is how can we begin to ideologize cities, spaces, and our natural environment in a more circular, holistic and just way?

Submit your ideas to urban.submissions@gmail.com by February 21st

